Synopsis

The Book Thief

Liesel Meminger, a nine-year-old girl living in Germany during World War II is the focus of this novel, and her experiences are narrated by Death, who details both the beauty and destruction that this time period brought.

After her brother's death, Liesel arrives in a troubled state at the home of her new foster parents, Hans and Rosa Hubermann. During her time there, she is exposed to the horror of the Nazi regime and battles to find a way to maintain the innocence of her childhood in the midst of her destructive surroundings. After discovering the power of writing and sharing the written word, Liesel begins to not only steal the books that the Nazi party is looking to destroy, but to also write her own stories and share the power of language with Max, the Jewish refugee. As Liesel copes with the trauma of her past and the violent horrors of the war-torn world around her, she embarks on a journey of self-discovery, the formation of a new family, and mostly, her life as "the book thief."

Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills

3. What events led Hans Huberman to change seats on the military vehicle?

4. What devastating news did Michael Holtzapfel bring to Himmel Street?

5. In your opinion, why did Frau Holtzapfel want Liesel to come over and read after she just found out her son died?

6. The Ageless Brother is the title of one of the chapters in Part Nine. Why do you think the author gave this chapter that name?

7. Hans Hubermann was kind and civil during his assignment in the Army. How might his actions have saved his life?

8. Frau Holtzapfel will not leave her house during the raid. Her son, Michael, leaves to take shelter and says to Rosa, “Tell me, Rosa, how can she sit there ready to die while I still want to live?” (p. 417) Why do you think Frau wants to die when she still has a son? Why does Michael want to live?

9. Liesel is observing the dying survivor of the plan crash when Death reveals, “She did not back away or try to fight me, but I know that something told the girl I was there...but she knew me and she looked me in my face and she did not look away.” (p. 420) What did Death mean by this? What does this tell us about Liesel?

10. In your opinion, why did Rudy give the teddy bear to the “enemy”?
1. Liesel survived the air strike on Himmel Street. How did words save her life?

2. Why did Michael Heltzapfel kill himself?

3. Why do you suppose Liesel risked her life to talk to Max?

4. Liesel and Rudy are sitting together, and she shows him The Word Shaker just after she reveals the secret of Max. For the first time, Liesel comes to terms with her feelings for Rudy. Soon after, the author foreshadows Rudy’s death. Why, in your opinion, did the author choose to let the reader know of Rudy’s demise at this time?

5. Liesel crosses the bridge over the Amper River. “The water was glorious and emerald and rich. She could see the stones at the bottom and hear the familiar song of water. The world did not deserve such a river.” (p. 520) Why does Liesel feel this way?

6. In the chapter titled Ilsa Hermann’s Little Black Book, Liesel has a love-hate relationship with words. Cite textual evidence that proves this to be true.

7. Why did Frau Hermann visit Liesel? What does this tell you about the feelings Frau has for Liesel?

8. Liesel decides to write her own story. What caused her to do this?

9. Liesel started writing her story and she reveals, “Words are so heavy...” (p. 526) What does she mean by this?

10. On page 532, describe Death’s portrayal of Rosa.

11. Liesel finds Rudy’s body and kisses him. “He tasted like regret in the shadows of trees and in the glow of the anarchist’s suit collection.” (p. 536) What does she mean by this?

12. Why did Death take The Book Thief instead of leaving it in the garbage truck?

Epilogue

1. What motivated Ilsa Hermann to take Liesel?

2. The last note from the narrator was, “I am haunted by humans.” (p. 550) What does Death mean? Why is this ironic?

3. Why is Max the unexpected survivor of the war?
Vocabulary Introduction
The Book Thief

A selection of vocabulary words are identified for each reading section. The vocabulary meanings are according to the context of the writing. You may want to either add to this list or decrease it depending on your students. You can decide whether to introduce vocabulary before reading the section, during, or after.

Vocabulary activities could include giving the word and definition, and then having the students give the definition in their own words, drawing a picture of what the particular word means to them, including a synonym/antonym, the part of speech, etc. The students may also write original sentences using the vocabulary words, finding the words on the pages and making a guess based on context clues.

Students may be quizzed on each section of words, assigned to write their own stories with vocabulary words, or allowed to play games to reinforce word meanings.

Flashback: A transition in a story to an earlier time, which interrupts the normal chronological order.

Cliffhanger: A plot device that leaves the reader in suspense at the end of chapter.

1. “The Shoulder Shrug. It was a blue book with red writing engraved on the cover.” (p. 84) For what might red be a symbol?

2. What does The Grave Digger’s Handbook symbolize?

3. What does finishing The Grave Digger’s Handbook symbolize?

4. Cite textual evidence that supports the author using flashback on page 104. How does this device help the reader?

5. Cite textual evidence that supports a cliffhanger on page 107. Why does the author use this cliffhanger?

6. The author uses personification to give life to flames. “The orange flames waved at the crowd as paper and print dissolved...” (p. 112) What do the flames symbolize?

7. What might the stolen books symbolize?

8. A flashback occurs on page 145. What is it? How does this flashback help the reader?

9. “...they noticed Fritz Hammer eating an apple.” (p. 150) What might the apple symbolize?

10. What does the standover man symbolize?
1. What does the accordion symbolize?

2. Why do you think the narrator provided a flashback to Hans Hubermann’s WWI experiences?

3. The author uses a simile to describe Max’s voice. “...there was humor in Max Vanderburg’s voice, though its physicality was like friction—like a stone being gently rubbed across a large rock.” (p. 217) What is being compared? Why is this comparison appropriate?

4. What did the dream of Max fighting with the Fuhrer symbolize?

5. Max and his friends painted over the pages of Mein Kampf. What does this symbolize?

6. The author uses personification to give the reader a vivid description of Liesel thinking about Max while she is visiting the mayor’s wife. “As the book quivered in her lap, the secret sat in her mouth. It made itself comfortable. It crossed its legs.” (p. 146). Two things are being personified. What are they? What visualizations does this give the reader?

7. “For Max Vandenburg, there was cool cement and plenty of time to spend with it. The minutes were cruel. Hours were punishing.” (p. 150) The author uses personification to characterize time. How does this help the reader to understand how Max feels about time?

8. “Although the front and back pages were streaked with black tears of print...” (p. 147) What two things are being compared? Why do you think the author used tears as a comparison? Which literary device is this? Why?
1. “They say war is death’s best friend, but I must offer you a different point of view on that one. To me, war is like the new boss who expects the impossible. He stands over your shoulder repeating one thing, incessantly: ‘Get it done, get it done.’ So you work harder. You get the job done. The boss, however, does not thank you. He asks for more.” (p. 309)
   What two things are being compared? Which literary device is this? Why?

2. What is the cliffhanger at the end of page 324?

3. What is the symbolic significance of the last book Liesel acquired, The Dream Carrier?

4. “The book thief did not retreat. She took a few extra steps and sat down. Her cold hands felt for her sleeves and a sentence dropped from her mouth. ‘He’s not dead yet.’ The words landed on the table and positioned themselves in the middle.” (p. 330)
   Which literary device is this? Why?

5. “…The sky was yellow, like burning newspaper.” (p. 336) Which literary device is this? Why?
1. “Even when they made it around the corner, away from the center of the wreckage, the haze of the collapsed building attempted to follow. It was white and warm, and it crept behind them.” (p. 433). What is being personified?

2. What did Rudy's lined-up dominoes, described at the beginning of Part Eight symbolize?

3. “A bandaged hand fell out of his coat sleeve and cherries of blood were seeping through the wrapping ... the cherries of blood had grown into plums.” (p. 465). What is being compared? Which literary device is this? Why?

4. ...I looked up and saw the tin-can planes. I watched their stomachs open and the bombs drop casually out.” (p. 427) Which literary device is this? Why?

5. In Part Ten, the narrative shifts rapidly between past, present, and future. What effect does this have on the story?
Using Choice Boards

The Book Thief

Choice boards give students the opportunity to participate in multiple tasks that allow them to practice skills they’ve learned in class or to demonstrate and extend their understanding of concepts. From the board, students either choose or are assigned tasks to complete. Individual tasks address the grade level specific Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills and also learning style modalities.

To scaffold the activities for struggling readers, teachers can modify the tasks using the blank template provided or give more details for performance criteria. Some teachers like to assign point values for the different tasks.

In order to support teachers, the choice boards developed for BSCBR are coded for specific State Standards.

- Research Holocaust survivors.
- Find three survivors who interest you and write a short characterization of each survivor.
- Present the information to your class.

7-8.SL.14

- Create a map of Europe and plot points of interest. Write a short summary of why these points are important.

7-8.RL.5

- Select five adjectives that characterize Death and give an example of his commentary in the novel that illustrates each character trait.
- Give a presentation to the class.

7-8.SL.25

- Research the purposes and organization of concentration camps in Germany and Eastern Europe.
- Give an oral presentation to your class with the use of visual representations.

7-8.W.15

- Analyze Liesel’s character and show how she develops over the course of the novel, how she interacts with other characters, and how she advances the development of the theme.
- Creatively display the analysis through the use of technology.

7-8.RL.4

- There are many themes throughout this novel. Consider each theme and discuss how each is developed in the novel:
  - Individual identity vs. social expectations
  - Coming to terms with abandonment and loss
  - Forming relationships with others
  - Concern with self vs. concern for others
  - The power of words
  - Overcoming stereotypes

Using a RAFT Matrix

The Book Thief

A RAFT matrix enhances students’ comprehension of novels they’re reading and information they’re learning. It also provides a fun way to encourage student writing. RAFT is an acronym for role, audience, format, and topic:

- Role. The role is the person or people the student becomes for this project. Sometimes students take on the role of a book character, historical figure, or contemporary personality, such as Peyton Manning, and at other times, they are themselves.
- Audience. The audience is the person or people who will read or view this project. They may include students, teachers, parents, or community members, as well as simulated audiences, such as book characters and historical personalities.
- Format. The format is the genre or activity that students create. It might be a letter, brochure, cartoon, journal, poster, essay, newspaper article, speech, or digital scrapbook.
- Topic. The topic pertains to the book. It may be an issue related to the book, an essential question, or something of personal interest.

RAFT is an effective way to differentiate instruction by providing tiered activities. The BSCSR RAFT matrices are scaffolded and can be adjusted according to students’ achievement levels, English proficiency, and interests.

The Seeds of World War II

During the 1930s Germany, soundly defeated in World War I, gathered strength under the leadership of the fanatical nationalist Adolf Hitler. Hitler and his Nazi Party rearmed Germany, breaking the Versailles Treaty of 1919 that had been designed to keep peace throughout Europe. Hitler’s trained thugs murdered political opponents, clearing his way to power. The Nazi leader entered into a series of negotiations that would allow Germany to dominate Eastern Europe. Envisioning themselves as a superior or “master” race, the Nazis ultimately planned to rule northern Europe as well.

Hitler carefully laid his political groundwork. The 1934 non-aggression pact he signed with Poland was a ploy to keep the Poles from arming against Germany. Hitler then signed an agreement with Stalin, Russia’s leader, dividing Poland between them. In 1936, the Italian leader Mussolini also signed a non-aggression pact with Germany. In 1938, the Nazi-run government incorporated Austria and parts of Czechoslovakia into an empire known as “the Third Reich.”

The stage was set for another world war. When France and Great Britain failed to act quickly to stop Hitler, the Germans opened hostilities, launching a massive air offensive on Warsaw and the surrounding area. The Nazis gained control of Poland within three weeks. With Poland as its base, the German army launched its campaign across Europe, leaving destruction and death in its wake.

Hitler and the Jews

In 1933, when Adolf Hitler became Chancellor of Germany, a national census showed that the Jewish population of Germany numbered around 600,000 representing less than one percent of the country’s total population. Of these, approximately eighty percent held German citizenship. The remaining twenty percent were mainly Jews of Polish descent. Why did this ethnic group pose such a serious threat to Hitler’s ideal Germany?

The answer lies in the long history of anti-Semitism, particularly in Europe. Jews were persecuted in Spain and in Russia, where they were coerced to convert to Christianity or face dire consequences. In general, the Jews tended to retain their own religious and cultural beliefs, although some did convert in order to conform to social expectations. In addition to the religious issue, Jews sometimes acted as money-lenders and were then scapegoated for the economic problems of the citizenry.

Hitler was not Germany’s first rabid anti-Semite. He was greatly influenced by Karl Lueger, mayor of Vienna, Austria from 1897 to 1910. The leader of the Christian Social Party, Lueger garnered voters with his platform of religious and racial homogeneity. He drew his support largely from the lower middle class, exploiting prejudices and attributing financial hardships to the practices of the Jews.

Hitler found it politically expedient to take the same approach. In Mein Kampf, he accused Jews of deliberately attempting to pollute the pure German gene pool, of robbing Aryans, and of destroying the nation’s social fabric. His propaganda became effective during the Great Depression, when the economic collapse put many out of work. Hitler’s government introduced a strict program of segregation of the Jews, prohibiting them from attending mainstream schools and from doing business with Aryans, or “pure” Germans. The government smiled on thugs who destroyed Jewish property and terrorized Jewish communities.

With the passing of the Nuremberg Laws of 1935, German Jews lost their rights as citizens, and intermarriage between Jews and non-Jews was prohibited. As acts of violence and outrage against Jews increased, many fled Germany. Those who remained behind suffered greatly from lack of food and medicines. Organized death squads killed thousands in Germany and Eastern Europe. In 1938, the assassination of a German diplomat by a Jewish teenager touched off a Nazi retaliation of astonishing brutality Kristallnacht, or “night of broken glass,” when Nazis and SS storm troopers smashed the windows in Jewish stores, committing murder and acts of violence along the way. There were also mass arrests that resulted in the expropriation of Jewish monies and properties by government officials.
In 1942, the Nazis instituted the concentration camps, where prisoners were worked to death, shot, or gassed. The vast majority of German and Polish Jews ended up in these camps; relatively few survived Hitler’s Final Solution. The Allies liberated the camps in 1945, with the defeat of the Axis Powers. Hitler would not live to face trial for the genocide he had orchestrated. He committed suicide in April, 1945, when the Red Army invaded Germany.

Book Ties:

Jesse Owens

James Cleveland Owens was born in Lawrence County, Alabama in 1913 and raised in Cleveland, Ohio. Owens, the grandson of a slave, was often sick as a child. He was given the name Jesse by a teacher in Cleveland who did not understand his country accent.

Jesse grew up in poverty, taking odd jobs delivering groceries, loading freight cars, and working in a shoe repair shop as a young teenager. During this time, he realized that he had a passion for running, encouraged by his junior-high track coach.

Owens first came to national attention when he was a high school student and equaled the record of 9.4 seconds in the 100-yard dash and long-jumped 24 feet 9 1/2 inches at the 1933 National High School Championship of Chicago.

Owens attended Ohio State University where he won a record of eight individual NCAA championships. Although Owens enjoyed athletic success, he had to live off campus with other African-American athletes. When he traveled with the team, he had to eat at “black-only” restaurants, and sleep in “black-only” hotels.

In 1936 Owens was selected to compete for the United States in the Summer Olympics in Berlin. Adolf Hitler was using the games to show the world a resurgent Nazi Germany and the superiority of the Aryan race. Owens, however, won four gold medals. Hitler publicly snubbed Owens, shaking hands only with German victors.

When Owens returned to the United States, he was given a hero’s welcome, but it was short-lived. As an African-American before the Civil Rights movement in America, Owens suffered the injustices of his race and eventually filed for bankruptcy. It wasn’t until 1966 that his rehabilitation began and he lived out the rest of his life as a U.S. goodwill ambassador. Owens died of lung cancer at the age of 66.
Extension Activities

The Book Thief

Writing – Research: W.7-8.20

Students will conduct sustained research projects to answer question (including a self-generated question) or solve problem; narrow or broaden the inquiry when appropriate; synthesize multiple sources on the subject, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation. (W.7-8.7)

Students will gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the usefulness of each source in answering the research question; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation. (W.7-8.8)

Students will draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, claims, reflection, and research. (W.7-8.9)

Possible Research Topics:

- Concentration Camps
- Survivors
- Liberators/Rescuers/Resisters
- Starvation-lack of food and nutrition
- World War II- Important Leaders
- World War II-Important Events
- Nazi Propaganda
- Holocaust War Criminals
- Lessons learned from the Holocaust
- The Japanese American Interment Camp
- Voices of the Holocaust
- Anne Frank
- Tolerance/Intolerance
- Children of the Holocaust
- Nuremberg Trials
- What was the Final Solution?
- Hate Groups
- Nazi Beliefs
- Liberation
- Boxcar Horrors
- Acts of Courage
- Daily Life in the Camps
- Star of David
- Doctors of the Holocaust
- Medical Experiments of the Holocaust
- The Story of Raoul Wallenberg
- Death Marches
- Book Burning
Writing – Narrative:  W.7  8.14

The Book Thief

Students will compose narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective techniques, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

Possible Narrative Topics

- An experience that led to renewed faith
- An encounter that changed your life
- An experience that left you disillusioned
- A significant misunderstanding
- A dangerous experience
- A moment of failure or success
- A frightening experience
- A memorable journey
- An encounter of someone or something you were afraid of
- A unique friendship
- Your bond between mother/father and child
- An occasion when you experienced rejection
- An occasion when you befriended an outcast
- An event that marked a turning point in your life
- A rebellious act
- A brush with death
- Two different versions of the same event
- An experience that altered your view of someone
- An imaginary encounter with a real person
Other Extension Activities:
The Book Thief

- Scene Performance – Students will work in small groups and enact chapters from the novel. Switch up the chapters and students so everyone has the opportunity to perform.
- Fake Book http://www.classtools.net/FB/home-page - The students may use this site to create a web page that details the persons of the text. The students will choose images of actors, real people, historical images, primary source documents, etc... in order to portray the novel's characters, tone, theme, and style.
- Draw the Setting – Students will draw one of the descriptions of the setting in the text, or create a model of collage of the setting.
- Other Works – Students will read one of the author’s other works and write a comparative paper discussing the similarities and differences in style, themes, and structure.
- Study Guide – Students will prepare a study guide for the class.
- Political cartoon – Choose a political cartoon regarding one or more of the novel's topics. Analyze the cartoon using the following resource: http://www.archives.gov/education/lessons/worksheets/cartoon_analysis_worksheet.pdf
